A. In Person or Mail Requests

1. Information and records relating to cases that are maintained in case files, dockets, indices, lists, or schedules by and at the District, Superior, or Supreme Judicial Courts are generally public and access will be provided to a person who requests to inspect them or have copies made by clerk’s office staff unless the information or a portion of it is confidential as provided in Part II, ¶ H.

Clerks and/or Clerical Staff at the Service Center will endeavor to provide the information requested using the following timetable:

1-5 names within 5 working days;
 6-10 names within 30 working days;
 11-15 names within 45 working days;
 16-20 names within 60 working days; and
 21+ names to be determined by the Clerk and/or Senior
 Service Center Associate

A person making a request for information for any names or cases for which that person is a party will not be charged a research fee as provided in the Judicial Branch fee schedule.

2. Records that are confidential or that contain information designated as confidential court information, materials that have been impounded or sealed by a judge, materials that are subject to a pending motion or other request for impoundment or sealing; or judge's, magistrate's, and law clerk's notes and workpapers will be placed in a separate sealed envelope in the file, and the file or record must have a label conspicuously affixed to it indicating that the file or record contains confidential materials.⁵ If a request for access is made concerning the nonconfidential portion of a record, the clerk will remove the confidential materials before making the record available for inspection. Requests for inspection of confidential materials or for review of materials that contain information designated as confidential that are contained within a public case file must be made by motion with notice to all parties of record as provided in the Maine Rules of Civil Procedure or Maine Rules of Criminal Procedure.

⁵ Clerks are encouraged to use a separate filing system for confidential materials, in which the materials are separately kept from the case files, where space and operational considerations permit such a system.

Judges may also maintain a confidential filing system for notes and workpapers, or may destroy them at the conclusion of the case.

3. Individual adult public criminal history information contained in public court records maintained by and at a clerk's office are open to public inspection and copying, and will be supplied if the records or indices are not located in a publicly accessible place.
4. If there is any doubt whether information is confidential information, Judicial Branch personnel should proceed cautiously in responding to the information request and provide access to information only when it is clearly appropriate to do so, or after consultation with a judge or the Manager, Clerk of Courts. Non-routine requests should be referred to the State Court Administrator or designee.
5. Requests for information that would require clerk's office staff to perform research or provide aggregate information or respond to standing requests must be declined, unless the Chief Judge or Justice has preauthorized a response. The requestor should be informed that the requestor may conduct the research by examining the dockets themselves, or by using the public access terminal where one is available.
6. Requests for data or information that would require administrative or technical staff to perform substantial new research, program new reports, evaluate data, or respond to standing requests must be declined, unless the Chief Judge or Justice has preauthorized a response. Requests to provide "data dumps," "bulk data," or large quantities of case details will be denied.
7. Admitted and proffered exhibits, including both documents and physical items, are part of the public record of a case, and while in the custody of the clerk's office, are available for inspection and copying unless they are otherwise confidential. Exhibits submitted to the clerk, but never proffered or admitted, will be made available to the submitting party, but are subject to inspection or copying while in the custody of the clerk's office. Public copying or inspection of admitted and proffered exhibits as well as exhibits submitted to the clerk but never proffered or admitted may be limited by the terms of a protective order or by a judicial order or administrative order governing the handling of contraband or dangerous materials.

8. Juror questionnaires, the records and information used in connection with the juror selection process, the names drawn, and juror seating charts are confidential and may not be disclosed to any person, except by judicial order. During the period of service of jurors and prospective jurors, the names and juror questionnaires of the members of the jury pool are confidential and may not be disclosed, except to the attorneys and their agents and investigators and the pro se parties.

Once the period of juror service has expired, a person may file a written request for disclosure of the names of the jurors and an affidavit stating the basis for the request. The court may disclose the names of the jurors only if the court determines that the disclosure is in the interests of justice.

B. Telephone Requests for Information

1. Due to the risks of misunderstanding, misinterpretation, or incorrect quotation of oral information, it is the policy of the Judicial Branch to carefully limit the release of information by telephone. Clerks' office staff may respond to telephone requests for information only in the following circumstances:
 - (a) Information about the status of a particular case may be given to parties, counsel, or other noncriminal justice governmental agencies with an interest⁶ in that matter and to members of the bar to facilitate the assignment of cases.
 - (b) Scheduling information on nonconfidential cases may be released to any caller.
 - (c) Information may be given to criminal justice agencies as follows:

⁶ If a clerk has reason to doubt that the caller is a party or party's counsel, the clerk should call back at the telephone number kept on file for that party or counsel. Agencies with an interest in a matter include, for example, Probation and Parole, the Department of Corrections, or other law enforcement agencies.

- (i) Police emergencies or other urgent legitimate needs. If information is needed to respond to an emergency or for another situation in which an immediate response is needed, such as a patrol stop, border check, suspect in custody, check of imposed bail or bail conditions, pre-trial release or sentencing conditions, including conditions of probation, filing, administrative release or deferred disposition, or a check of pending charges against a person under investigation, court personnel may provide the requested information by telephone, with a caution that it is partial information and that it only reflects the information maintained at that court. Clerks should endeavor to verify the identity of the caller before releasing the information.
 - (ii) Other criminal justice agency requests. Court personnel should evaluate the nature of the requested information and the need for a quick response against the other workload considerations in the court. The general rule is not to respond by phone, but to refer the requestor to SBI or to tell the requestor to get the information when next in court. However, for one-time requests when common sense dictates it, court personnel may provide the information over the telephone.
- (d) Information may be given to noncriminal justice governmental agencies (i.e., Health and Human Services, Department of Environmental Protection, military recruiters, etc.) in limited circumstances. These requests, in general, should not be responded to over the phone and should be responded to in the same manner as other telephone requests. However, all situations cannot be anticipated and clerks will sometimes be presented with an urgent need for information by a noncriminal justice agency (i.e., a request from the Department of Health and Human Services about a criminal record or a Protection From Abuse or Harassment record when they are in the process of preparing an emergency child protective matter). In those limited situations, clerks have the discretion to respond by telephone, with the caution that the provided information is partial and reflects only the information maintained at that court.

2. Telephone requests for comprehensive criminal history record information must be referred to the State Bureau of Investigation pursuant to 16 M.R.S. § 704.
3. Telephone requests for traffic record information must be referred to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, which maintains records of motor vehicle violations and offenses pursuant to 29-A M.R.S. § 2607.
4. Telephone requests for Fish and Wildlife offense information should be referred to the Maine Warden's Service, which maintains records of violations and criminal offenses pursuant to Title 12 of the M.R.S.
5. Telephone requests for Marine Resources offense information should be referred to the Department of Marine Resources, which maintains records of violations and criminal offenses pursuant to Title 12 of the M.R.S.
6. In order to eliminate the dangers of misunderstanding or inaccuracy, telephone requestors of other information about a specific case should be told to make a written inquiry or to visit the court to examine the records themselves.
7. Telephone requests for information that would require clerk's office staff to perform research or provide aggregate information and standing requests for categories of information must be declined, and the requestor informed that the requestor may conduct the research at the clerk's office.

C. Recordings of Court Hearings

Requests for duplicates of recordings of court hearings are governed by Administrative Order JB-05-14 as amended and M.R. App. P. 5.

IV. RECORDS MAINTAINED AT OR BY THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS OR THE OFFICE OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Staff members may respond to routine requests for nonconfidential information if the information can be provided without a material expenditure of staff time to compile or aggregate the requested information and if the request does not involve personnel information or other sensitive or controversial issues. If the employee is unsure as to the nature of the request or the permissibility of release of the information, he or she should proceed cautiously in responding to the information request and provide access to information only when it is clearly appropriate to do so, or after consultation with his or her supervisor. Non-routine requests should be referred to the State Court Administrator or designee.

The staff member shall notify the State Court Administrator of the nature of the request and the type of information provided.

B. Non-routine Information Requests

3. a request involves confidential information or information that the receiving staff member considers potentially sensitive or controversial in light of the identity of the requestor, the content of the information, or the nature of the request.

C. Routine Personnel Information Requests

Personnel information is not generally available to the public. An employee may request information from that employee's personnel file or employment records by contacting the Director of Human Resources. A union may request information about an employee or group of employees, to the extent authorized by statute or an applicable collective bargaining agreement, from the Director of Human Resources. The Director shall provide the requested information unless the request is not properly authorized, or violates the affected employee's rights to privacy. In those circumstances, the Director shall refer the request as provided in paragraph A.

Requests for information pertaining to an employee or group of employees, including performance or statistical information, from requestors other than the employee or an authorized union are non-routine requests subject to referral under paragraph A.

D. Fees

Fees will be charged for the provision of documents or information in accordance with applicable statutes, court rules, administrative orders, court policy, and fee schedules, where they apply. If there is no applicable statute, court rule, administrative order, court policy, or fee schedule which applies to a specific document or record, inspection of the document shall be provided at no charge and copies of documents shall be made and provided at the rate then in effect as set by the Fee Schedule, JB-05-26, as amended.

Requestors may use cameras to make copies of court records as provided in Administrative Order JB-05-15, Cameras And Audio Recording In The Courts, as amended. Copies made in accordance with JB-05-15 are not subject to fees.

Requests for electronic data, or for extracts, abstracts, or compilations of documents or records which involve a material expenditure of effort by Judicial Branch personnel require a special determination and will be responded to after consideration of:

1. the availability of personnel to fulfill the request,
2. the response time, if any was requested, and
3. the other workload of the affected staff.

If such a request is granted, the requestor shall be assessed a fee which is sufficient to cover the Judicial Branch's full actual costs, including staff time and associated overhead, for producing the requested information. The response and fee shall be determined by the appropriate member of the Administrative Team in consultation with the State Court Administrator or designee.

V. PROVISION OF INFORMATION TO INTERPRETERS

- A. When an interpreter has been assigned to assist the court and parties with respect to any case, the clerks of court shall permit the assigned interpreter to review all public portions of the court's file in order to prepare for the hearing, conference, or trial.
- B. When an interpreter has been assigned to assist the court and parties with respect to a child protective case, the clerks of court shall permit the interpreter to review the following portions of the court's file:

1. the petition pending, exclusive of any attached affidavits; and,
 2. the most recent order from the court, the pre-trial order controlling the hearing to which the interpreter has been assigned, or any order showing the current disposition of the case.
- D. In addition to the information outlined above, the court may, with the consent of the parties, provide additional information to the interpreter in order to ensure that the interpreter has no conflicts that would limit his or her participation in the case, and to ensure that the interpreter is fully prepared for the proceeding.

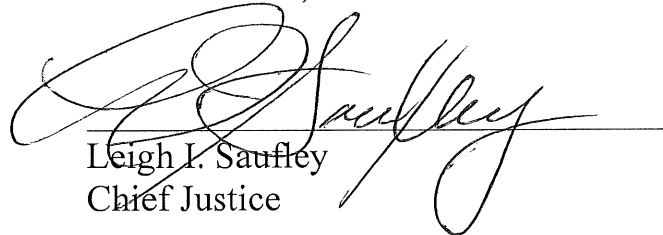

VI. DISSEMINATION OF OTHER INFORMATION

Pursuant to the Judicial Branch Code of Conduct, Judicial Branch employees are limited from disclosing court-related information other than in the performance of an official duty.
